Memorial Day to be observed around the county

By Gari Voss

Monday, May 25th marks Memorial Day 2026, a day to remember all those who have given their lives to preserve the freedom of the United States. Across Allegan County, veterans, community leaders, and volunteers have planned celebrations to honor those from their communities who gave the ultimate to their country – their lives.

City of Allegan
Monday, May 25, 2026: Oakwood Cemetery Ceremony

11:00am – The Allegan American Legion Post 89 will host a solemn service at the Oakwood Cemetery, 311 Western Ave. Army SP5 Peter Antkoviak II will be Master of Ceremony as the Allegan American Legion, Boy and Girl Scouts, Allegan High School Band, Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War (SUVCW) General Benjamin Pritchard Camp No. 20, and representatives from military groups honor and remember those who fell in service to the United States.

Luncheon Following the Service - After the Memorial Day celebration at the Oakwood Cemetery on Monday May 25th, the Immanuel Lutheran Church will offer a light luncheon in their Fellowship Hall at 631 Grand Street, near the Allegan Airport. Everyone is welcome for sandwiches and refreshments. Call the church office at (269) 673-3335 for questions or details.

City of Fennville
Monday, May 25, 2026, 10am: Fennville Memorial Day Parade & Program

The Fennville VFW Post 7911 under the leadership of Quartermaster John Bronson and Commander Randall Bishop will sponsor the Fennville Memorial Day Parade and Memorial Service at the Fennville Cemetery. The community is invited to join in celebrating, remembering and honoring those who served and died for our country. The VFW encourages community member support and participation and invites all area veterans and others to join in the parade. The public may watch the parade then follow to the Fennville Cemetery for our Memorial Day Service. If questions, contact jodymartin1@comcast.net.

9:30-9:45am: The parade will line up on North Maple Street, at the park entrance.

10:00am: The Boy Scout Troup 45 will lead the flag raising ceremony at Paradise Park followed by the Fennville High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Andres Garcia, playing the Stars Spangled Banner.

The parade route goes south to 1st Street; East on 1st Street to Park Street; South on Park Street to Main Street (M-89); then West to the Cemetery. The VFW encourages all veterans, community members and scout troops to participate in the parade along with decorated bicycles, golf carts, vintage automobiles, horses, floats and horses.

The community is invited to join in celebrating and honoring those who served our country. Watch along the parade route and follow the parade to the cemetery for the service. If questions, contact jodymartin1@comcast.net

Following the parade the community is invited to an ice cream social at the Fennville United Methodist Church. Donations are accepted to support the Community Christmas Outreach Program held each December.

Recall clarity hearing scheduled for Dorr Township supervisor

By Jordan Wilcox
Assistant Publisher

A recall clarity hearing has been scheduled for Dorr Township Supervisor Jeff Miling, marking the latest development in the effort to begin a recall campaign against the longtime township official.

According to a notice issued by the Allegan County Clerk's Office, the Allegan County Election Commission will meet Thursday, May 28 at 10 a.m. in the Probate Courtroom on the lower level of the Allegan County Courthouse, 113 Chestnut St. in Allegan.

The purpose of the hearing is to determine whether language submitted for the proposed recall meets Michigan's legal standards for clarity and factual accuracy before petitions can be circulated.

The notice does not specify the allegations or wording contained in the proposed recall language.

Miling has served as Dorr Township supervisor for several years and has been involved in a number of high-profile local issues during his tenure. In recent years, township leadership has dealt with controversies ranging from cemetery ordinance disputes to fallout from the former township treasurer embezzlement case.

More recently, Dorr Township officials have faced growing debate over large-scale development and land use following Microsoft's purchase of hundreds of acres of farmland in the area for a potential data center development. The proposed project generated mixed reactions among residents, with some expressing concern about preserving the township's rural character and agricultural land, while others viewed the investment as an economic opportunity for the growing community.

Under Michigan law, recall petition language must first be reviewed by an election commission to determine whether it is clear and factually accurate. If approved, petition organizers may begin collecting signatures in an attempt to place the recall on a future ballot.

The May 28 hearing will be conducted in compliance with Michigan's Open Meetings Act and will be open to the public.

Recount scheduled for tied Hopkins Schools' bond

By Jordan Wilcox
Assistant Publisher

A recount has officially been scheduled following the tied outcome of the Hopkins Public Schools bond proposal election earlier this month.

According to a notice issued by the Allegan County Clerk's Office, the Allegan County Board of Canvassers received a recount petition on May 13 and will meet Wednesday, May 27 at 9 a.m. to conduct a recount of votes cast in the May 5 special election. The recount will take place in the Jury Assembly Room at the Allegan County Courthouse, 113 Chestnut St. in Allegan.

This follows an unusually close election in which the Hopkins school bond proposal ended in an exact tie vote, preventing the measure from passing under Michigan election law. The rare outcome prompted widespread discussion throughout the district as well as renewed attention on voter turnout and the importance of every ballot cast.

The proposal would fund several major district projects, including safety and security upgrades at the elementary and high schools, construction of a new middle school, and development of a new performing arts center. District officials emphasized throughout the campaign that approval of the bond would not increase the tax rate beyond the 2025 millage rate, though a defeat would allow the rate to decrease once current debt obligations are paid off.

In the weeks leading up to the election, Hopkins Public Schools launched a broad informational campaign aimed at educating voters about the proposal. The district hosted community forums, mailed informational postcards to residents, distributed information at school events, and encouraged community involvement ahead of the vote.

The May 27 recount meeting will be conducted in compliance with Michigan's Open Meetings Act and will be open to the public.

Bruwer named principal of ESA Tech Center

Allegan Area Educational Service Agency is pleased to announce Kim Bruwer as the new principal of the Allegan Area ESA Tech Center.

Bruwer brings more than 20 years of experience in education to this role. In this position, she will oversee programming, student support, staff leadership, and community partnerships at the Tech Center.

"We are excited for Kim to step into the principal role at the Tech Center. Her positivity, enthusiasm, and passion for student success are felt by all who have the chance to work with her," said Bill Brown, superintendent of Allegan Area Educational Service Agency. "She has served as the assistant principal for the last year and demonstrated the skills and leadership qualities that will help both staff and students thrive. We look forward to seeing her continue to build strong relationships, inspire innovation, and lead the Tech Center into an exciting new chapter."

Prior to joining the Tech Center, Bruwer served in a variety of roles at Kalamazoo Central High School, including teacher, reading specialist, mentor and School Improvement Chairperson. During her time at Kalamazoo Central, she received the Most Influential Educator Award and the You Make a Difference Award for her dedication to student growth and success.

"I'm honored to be the principal of the Allegan Area ESA Tech Center and support staff and students as they learn hands-on skills that will prepare them for their future careers and educational opportunities," said Bruwer. "What excites me most about this opportunity is being able to continue to work alongside students, staff, and the community to create an inclusive, supportive, and forward-thinking learning environment. I'm energized by the chance to grow and develop together, supporting innovative programs, empowering educators, and ensuring every student feels valued, challenged, and prepared for their future."

The Allegan Area ESA Tech Center provides hands-on career and technical education opportunities for students across Allegan County, helping prepare learners for success in college, careers, and beyond.

One dies, one airlifted in Overisel crash

By John Raffel
Correspondent

ALLEGAN — Allegan County Central Dispatch received a 911 call in reference to a two vehicle accident at the intersection of 146th Avenue and 36th Street in the Township of Overisel at around 5:45 p.m.

They reported the accident involved a gray pickup truck and a black SUV. They also relayed to first responders that one of the occupants of the vehicle had possibly been ejected. First responders arrived on scene and attempted life saving measures for the female driver that had been ejected but she succumbed to her injuries and was pronounced deceased on scene.

The preliminary investigation shows that the female driver of the black SUV was traveling north on 36th street when she failed to stop at the stop sign at that intersection. The black SUV pulled in front of the gray pickup truck that had the right of way that was traveling west bound on 146th Ave. The female driver of the gray pickup suffered serious injuries in the crash and was airlifted from the scene by AeroMed. The driver of the black SUV was ejected and succumbed to her injuries. The female drivers of both vehicles were the only occupants in their vehicles at the time of the crash.

The Allegan County accident reconstruction team was on the scene conducting the investigation and the intersection of 146th Ave and 36th St was shut down for awhile.

The Allegan County Sheriff's Office was assisted on scene by Overisel Fire Department, Salem Fire Department, MSP, Holland AMR, Medical Examiner's Office, AeroMed and the Allegan County Accident Reconstruction Team.

Van crashes into road workers near Wayland

US-131 near Wayland reopened last week after a van crash injured road workers and temporarily closed northbound lanes near 140th Avenue.

The crash happened around 10 a.m. on May 13, 2026, on northbound US-131 at 140th Avenue. According to MDOT spokesperson John Richard, a driver veered from the left lane onto the shoulder where an MDOT crew was working. Workers reportedly jumped over the guardrail to avoid the oncoming vehicle.

The workers sustained minor injuries from jumping out of the vehicle's path. Richard said the workers were fortunate they were not struck directly. At least two MDOT vehicles were also involved in the crash.

Michigan State Police confirmed minor injuries from the crash but did not specify whether the van driver was among those injured.

US-131 was closed from approximately 10 a.m. to noon before reopening to traffic. Construction work later resumed.

Michigan Law and Work Zone Crashes

Michigan law imposes enhanced penalties when a qualifying moving violation causes injury or death in a work zone.

Under MCL 257.601b, a driver who commits a moving violation carrying at least three points and causes injury to another person in a work zone can face misdemeanor penalties, including up to one year in jail and a fine of up to $1,000.

If the violation causes death, the offense can become a felony punishable by up to 15 years in prison and a fine of up to $7,500.

The law is commonly associated with "Andy's Law," Michigan's work-zone safety legislation designed to protect road workers and others in marked work zones.

ALEgan Craft Beer Fest

Beer Fest, Golf Scramble highlight weekend activities

The weekend of May 16, 2026, offered fun and frolic to residents and visitors of all ages, and the weather could not have been better. In addition to the many yard and garage sales, there were games, food, friends and festivities galore. Outdoor enthusiasts could enjoy a round of golf, a ride through the woods on a horse, favorite or new beverages at the Beer Fest, learning how to do Plein Air art, games and fun on the Riverfront, or even a Mud Run. Inside, teens and adults could experience Book Bricks, country music, dancing and refreshments, or the Night of Hope fundraiser. Allegan had it all on one Saturday from morning to night!

Camp Kidwell's Annual Golf Scramble. For golfers, the Camp Kidwell Golf Scramble at Cheshire Hills Golf Course brought golf teams of all ages to try their skills at 18 holes while those who would rather not golf were to choose their favorite items in the Online Auction. Best score for the Women went to Cheryl Cook, Giada Carns, Becky Mills and Julie Andrus. On the Men's side, Team McCrossin snuck by the competition. The Club House filled with hungry competitors who made their last bids on auction items and filled their plates at the lunch bar before prizes were announced. Camp Director KJ Kelly took time to acknowledge the wonderful contributions of Herb Johnson who did so much for Camp and initiated the Golf Scramble, and gave thanks to the many contributors who enable youth to enjoy the experience of summer, weekend and winter camps.

Allegan County Pleasure Riders 52nd Benefit Ride. Silver Creek Campground and Equestrian Park filled with horse lovers and friends who rode the trails to raise funds for Wings of Hope and Wings Home. Over 125 riders took to the trails to bring an initial $7005 to each of the organizations with more donations arriving. Prizes were drawn for the riders and others who bought tickets for the silent auction. A special thank you went to Terry and Tammy Hillman of the Neighbors House Bar and Grill in Gobles who furnished the hot dogs, chili and sides for hungry equestrians.

Allegan Credit Union 10th Annual Block Party. Swinging back to Allegan, families and friends of Allegan Credit Union enjoyed the 10th Annual Block Party on the Allegan Riverfront. Those in attendance enjoyed bounce houses, raffles, games, free food, and other activities. All were offered at no cost as a thank you from Allegan Credit Union.

ALEgan Craft Beer Fest. Heading over to the Allegan County Fairgrounds from 2-8pm, adults gathered at ALEgan Beer Fest to sample beers from 18 craft breweries around Allegan County and beyond. The Allegan Jaycees and Tantrick Brewing & Stillhouse were joined by 200+ beer lovers and friends to enjoy food from the Allegan Band Booster and The Mobile Crave, music by Jack's Label Maker, and beverages for all pallets. For the designated drivers and those looking for a change in beverage, there was the Kitty-wampus Soda Brewing hawking Unique Soda for Unique People.

After Dark Country Night. The Grill House's Courtyard opened, and next door in The Silo, After Dark welcomed Western Night featuring the Bronk Brothers. Even before dark, the crowd began arriving and found pizza, snacks and beverages then took to the dance floor for partner dancing and Boot Scootin'. This was the second After Dark gathering and Executive Manager Samantha Christman-Ailes felt that they would consider hosting another sometime in the summer.

Art Coast preview: Porch Party, Senior Walk and Long Memorial Day Lead-In

By Art Nicholas

In the rhythm of a small county in mid-May, this past week was something of a deep breath — the lull before graduation, Memorial Day, and the long stretch of summer events to follow. Most of the calendar's biggest names haven't yet rolled into town. But the week still offered a couple of the Art Coast's most beloved local traditions, and the season's bigger gatherings are already lining up just around the corner.

Art, Music and Horses on the Farm

The Red Horse Center hosted its annual Porch Party Fundraiser on Saturday, May 16, drawing hundreds of friends and neighbors — from down the road and from well beyond the county line — to its farm on 122nd Avenue in Fennville. The afternoon was built on the trio Red Horse does best: art, music, and horses. Held during Mental Health Awareness Month, the event anchors the spring fundraising drive supporting programs such as Horses Empowering Youth (H.E.Y.), Mental Heach and Wellness, Pride and Ally Community Wellness, and Herd Support, for the daily care of the herd.

The Porch Party was free and open to all. The horses set the tone. Families with young children pressed against the pasture fence to meet the herd, and quiet visits drew a steady stream of guests all afternoon.

The art held the lawn together. The Saugatuck Douglas Art Club's collaborative gallery show filled Juniper's Retreat House with work for sale, proceeds split between the artists and Red Horse. A hay-bale "art wagon" parked near the red barn became an open-air showroom for local painters, and beneath the trees a long, paint-splattered COLLABORATIVE ART table invited kids and adults to add color to a shared canvas.

Then came the music. It started at 3:30 pm with Mat Daly playing acoustic covers, followed by Hannah Laine, singing her original music, including creative "soul-oh looping." Later, Great Lakes Brass — the New Orleans-inspired band founded by Red Horse's own Fred Bueltmann — kicked off a "Fire Horse Second Line" across the lawn. Sousaphone, trombone, sax, and a bass drum rolled past handmade horse-puppet banners as the procession pulled guests up out of their lawn chairs and into the parade. It was the band's fourth year leading the celebration, and the moment captured what Red Horse reaches for: community-driven engagement, sharing joy and hope, through art, music, horses and the community that holds the work together.

Around it all, Farmhouse Deli served pork tacos, vegan tacos, and street corn salad, while Fenn Valley, Modales, Rusty Rocket, Noble Twist, Mitten Brewing, Saugatuck Brewing, Crane's Cider, and St. George Sodas poured at the bar. A live auction and raffle headlined a grand-prize group retreat at Juniper's Retreat House valued at $3,500.

"It is incredibly affirming to feel the community support that makes this event possible. We connect with our long-time volunteers, supporters, and sponsors while meeting hundreds of new friends. People breathe in what it feels like to be in our Peaceful Space for Powerful Work, abd have fun, all while contributing to making mental health and wellness services accessible and affordable for people in our community." (Ulla Frederiksen, Red Horse Center Co-founder and Psychologist.)

A Walk to Remember in Fennville

Earlier in the week, the halls of Fennville Public Schools rang with applause and high-fives as the Class of 2026 made its annual Senior Walk through the district. A cornerstone of the Blackhawks' graduation lead-up, the tradition sends gowned and capped seniors strolling through the elementary, middle and high school buildings, slapping hands with younger students lining the hallways. For the youngest students, it's a first glimpse of graduation. For the seniors, it's a chance to circle back to the teachers and classrooms that shaped twelve years of their lives.

Around the County This Week

Beyond Fennville, the week's smaller offerings drew steady crowds. The Saugatuck Douglas District Library screened The Hundred Foot Journey on Tuesday evening, and cooking and wellness workshops popped up across the area as the lakeshore eased toward summer.

Caps in the Air

The week's biggest milestone arrives tonight. Fennville High School's commencement takes place Thursday, May 21, at 7 p.m. at George Bruder Memorial Field — Blackhawk Stadium. Parking fills quickly. Fennville Alternative High School's graduation follows one week later, Thursday, May 28, at 7 p.m., in the High School Auditorium, honoring this year's class of diploma and GED graduates. Both ceremonies are open to the community.

Looking Ahead: A Much Busier Week on Deck

Where this week was modest, next week is anything but. Friday and Saturday, May 22 and 23, Second City Returns to the SCA brings the famed Chicago sketch-comedy troupe to the Saugatuck Center for the Arts. The Saugatuck Farmers Market at the SCA opens its season Friday, May 22, 9 a.m.–2 p.m., running every Friday through the summer with fresh produce, prepared food and local artisans.

Memorial Day weekend then brings a full slate across the Art Coast:

Fennville Memorial Day Parade — Monday, May 25, 10 a.m. Lineup at Paradise Park by 9:45 a.m.; the procession continues down Main Street to the Fennville Cemetery for a service hosted by VFW Post 7911, with the FHS Marching Band and Scouts BSA Troop 45 participating.

Saugatuck Memorial Day Parade — Monday, May 25, 9 a.m., downtown Saugatuck, followed by a ceremony at Memorial Park.

Douglas Memorial Day Parade — Monday, May 25, 11 a.m., downtown Douglas.

Area wineries and gardens are already lining up live music for the long weekend.

The pace is about to change in earnest. Whether you're cheering a senior across the stage tonight, browsing the season's first farmers market or lining a parade route on Memorial Day, there's room for everyone — neighbors, returning visitors and first-timers alike. A good week ahead in the Art Coast.

On this Memorial Day

Editor's Note: I thought I would use my space to sometimes contributor, Jeffrey Brasie. As a Vietnam veteran, he offers a movie, book and TV show that honor best those that served.

By: Jeffrey D. Brasie, M.A,

This coming Monday, May 25th Americans will reflect and honor Memorial Day. Our Canadian neighbors recognize their Memorial Day each July 1st.

According to the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) there are just under 18 million veterans. VA statistics reveal the Gulf War, Afghanistan, and Iraq age group veterans are eclipsing the living Vietnam era veterans.

I have personally visited numerous military memorials, parades, and cemeteries to render a hand salute or placed my hand over my heart for those who have served and passed. The Vietnam Wall is the most difficult for me to visit. I know two of the 58,281 names engraved in the 246-foot nine-inch granite wall.

As we prepare for Memorial Day, I would like to share with you my thoughts which I tend to believe are the best motion picture, book, and television episode honoring those who served.

Motion Picture

For many, the movies, Born on the Fourth of July, The Hurt Locker, Blackhawk Down, Saving Private Ryan, Dirty Dozen, Flags of Our Fathers, and Forrest Gump come to mind.

I tend to believe the best motion picture is the 1946 Oscar award winning film, The Best Years of Our Lives.

The film features Fredic March, Dana Andrews, and Harold Russell as three post-World War II veterans returning to their Midwest hometown. March portrays an Army sergeant who has seen combat, Andrews an Army Air Corps flight captain, and Russell a Navy petty officer who lost both of his forearms.

March struggles with PSTD (then known as shell shock) when returning to his family he hasn't seen for years and his banking profession. Andrews returns to a philanderer wife and a third level job clerking at a local drug store. Finally, Russell has adjusted to his limb loss. Nevertheless, his mother has struggled to manage her son's challenge, while his next-door neighbor and girlfriend, Wilma, loves him deeply.

MIKE'S MUSINGS

It is a terrific motion picture to view especially with a Russell and Wilma's wedding scene, a blossoming new love for Andrews, and March's family and lifestyle are reunited.

The movie is available through a multitude of online resources and through library lending services.

The Book

My Father, My Son is a biography of Chief of Naval Operations (CNO), Admiral Elmo ("Bud") Zumwalt, Jr. co-written with John Pekkanen. The book chronicles Zumwalt's personal life and military career.

As a young petty officer, at the Pentagon on the Secretary of the Navy's public affairs staff, I had the honor of periodically seeing and interacting with the Admiral.

Zumwalt, the Navy's highest-ranking officer, faced dozens upon dozens of challenges during his CNO tenure. These ranged from the Vietnam war front, racial tensions, an aging fleet, and constantly seeking administration and Congressional support. It is relevant to note that when he was selected as CNO he was chosen over other senior level flag officers. At age 49 he was the youngest CNO ever to be appointed.

The most poignant chapter in the book is when Zumwalt talks about his Vietnam tour of duty. During this period, his son, Elmo III was a Naval lieutenant manning a gun boat on the Mekong River Delta.

From the shoreline, American troops were facing severe casualties on the Delta.

Admiral Zumwalt made the decision to use the defoliant, agent orange, to push back each side of the river shoreline by hundreds of yards. This meant the enemy could no longer hide behind the shoreline foliage nor launch their weapons against the American forces.

Years later after leaving the Navy and graduating from law school, the junior Zumwalt learned that he contracted Non-Hodgkin's Lymphoma. He died in 1988.

It is believed that the Admiral's decision to use agent orange, to save numerous troop members, may have caused his son to have died at age 42. The Admiral's grandson, Elmo IV was born with a birth defect which hinders his ability to concentrate. Other Vietnam veterans' children have also shown birth defects.

Certain aspects of this book are a challenging read of the Admiral and his son facing the consequences of agent orange.

On using agent orange, the Admiral at the time was assured by the Pentagon that the defoliate was safe to use. He commented, "I asked the right questions, but got the wrong answers."

The book is available at lending libraries or can be ordered online.

The Television Show

Television featured numerous military related series such as NCIS, China Beach, Combat, Hogan's Heroes, McHale's Navy, JAG, Seal Team, and numerous other series dating back decades.

Perhaps the best was the 11-season run of M*A*S*H. The series was filled with a variety of notable characters, hilarious situations, as well as the Korean War's difficulties and dozens of ethical issues.

As a side note, the late Harry Morgan who portrayed Colonel Sherman Potter was from Muskegon, Michigan and Corporal Max Klinger (played by Jamie Farr) is a Toledo, Ohio native.

Probably the most memorable episode for me appeared in 1980 entitled, "Death Takes a Holiday." Truly one of the best episodes and major tearjerker.

The plot has the M*A*S*H 4077 medical unit celebrating Christmas in the camp's massive mess (dining) quarters.

As the holiday festivities carry on, a severely wounded soldier, shot by a sniper, arrives at the M*A*S*H unit. The holiday party continues with the soldier quickly carried into the surgical tent.

Hawkeye (Alan Alda) and B.J. Hunnicutt (Mike Ferrell) realized the combat soldier was most certainly going to die. Their goal was to keep him alive so his family would not see him pass on Christmas day. It was a scene filled with love, tense moments, and a from the heart mission.

Head nurse, Major Margaret Houlihan (Loretta Swit) pulled a photo from the soldier's pocket which showed his wife and children. Inscribed on the photo was "To the best husband and daddy in the world; come home soon."

Colonel Potter would slip into the nearby surgical tent wearing his makeshift Santa outfit. Father John Mulcahy (William Christopher) would pray and add words of wisdom. As the solider was heading toward death, one of the Father's classic remarks was, "Christmas should be thought of as a day of birth."

The wall clock ticked towards midnight and December 26th. The soldier becomes weaker by the hour. He passes before midnight. Hawkeye slips over to the nearby clock and moves it to 12:05 a.m.

Mission accomplished – the official record had the solider from Pennsylvania pass on December 26th.

Hand salute to you, my dear brothers and sisters who served and those who gave their lives in the name of democracy and freedom.

Jeffrey D. Brasie is a retired health care CEO. He frequently writes historic feature stories and op-eds for various Michigan newspapers, magazines, and social media sites. As a Vietnam-era veteran, he served in the U.S. Navy and U.S. Naval Reserve. He served on the public affairs staff of the Secretary of the Navy. He grew up near the tip of the mitt and resides in suburban Detroit.

Life as Performance Art

Memorial Day Monday, May 25 this year, is nigh upon us. Don't mistake it for the Fourth of July, when our nation's 250th birthday will deservedly be feted later in 2026, or Veterans Day Nov. 11 each year.

Memorial Day began after, maybe even during, the Civil War. Each spring, families in upstate New York went to their local cemeteries to clean up the graves and granite markers of the soldiers who had died during the 4-year conflict.

If there was an "orphan grave" where there was no known family to tend to it, others filled in, often leaving flowers. While there, some tended to nearby civilian graves as well.

These gestures, with planting flags, are our way of saying, "We have not forgotten you." Many Daughters of the American Revolution chapters devote hours to cleaning gravestones where deceased veterans' families have either died out or moved away.

After the Civil War, more local and state organizations were formed, many consisting of veterans themselves, to aid and comfort soldiers, widows and orphans.

By 1866, one year after the conflict ended, many of these groups combined forces to create the Grand Army of the Republic.

In 1868, they chose Gem. John Logan, a veteran of the war with Mexico, to serve as their third commander in chief. His first act was signing a general order renaming what was then called "Decoration Day" on the last Monday in May "Memorial Day."

Either way, it remains a solemn day to honor the war dead, from the American Revolution until the most recent wars today.

Its observations are fittingly basic. Former soldiers form up and fall in, often to the accompaniment of a local band, as they march to the cemetery where the ceremony be held. The crowd is welcomed by the commanding officer, the chaplain offers prayers, sometimes there is a short speech and rifle salute. The observance ends with another prayer and we sing the National Anthem. With that, we are thanked and dismissed.

Sometimes people wonder why there are not more units — perhaps local animal rescue groups, muscle cars or something else. The reason is the solemn observance is comparable to a funeral procession. Communities have other annual parades that welcome these community organizations.

As I see it, what matters most on Memorial Day is that today's citizens turn out to join the ceremony. These soldiers' sacrifice still matters to us, even generations later.

Today too is different. Our biggest threat seems to come from within. It is not one party or the other, but the constant bickering, partisanship and infighting on almost every topic. We have pulled back, hunkered down and are wary of anyone who isn't like us or thinks like us. Or votes like us. As the cartoon character Pogo said, "We have met the enemy, and he is us."

For an hour or so on Memorial Day we can rise above that. When we see the Stars and Strips coming down the street, we can see the whole history of this country, united under the banner of red, white and blue.

When the veterans march past, we are reminded that nearly 2 million men and women have died protecting that spirt, flag and us.

They bought and paid for our freedom, civil rights, free elections and public schools, asking only that we apply ourselves to maintain them.

And yes, on Memorial Day afternoon, if we go out on the water, to the golf course or have a backyard barbecue, we can thank veterans too.

Later on this summer, on July 4, we will follow President John Adams' wish to celebrate with parades, fireworks and hopefully short orations.

But now's time to thank those who made and still make all of this possible.

Letters to the Editor

America First ... or last

To the Editor:

I'm in my mid-80s and will say that I'm more than shocked at the posture of the United States today. My background was typical, growing up in a small community, working as a paper boy, gas station attendant, and a handful of part-time factory jobs, attending Michigan public schools and universities. Back then costs were manageable with my earnings. Looking back, my life of work, leisure, and family were for the most part fulfilling, now I'm feeling exceedingly grateful, yet shocked at what I see.

No doubt, I was supported by family, friends, and community, some through challenging periods. Being a "War Baby", exposed me to catastrophe of WWII, recovery, then through the 60s, 90s, and now into the digital age. To say that a lot has changed over this period is a major understatement.

The simple statement "America First", makes bluntly clear that everyone else is second, at best. How is this? The idea of Democracy, at its very core, expresses the belief in equality. You and I, they and we… have equal agency (rights) to conduct our lives as we choose, the Golden rule, fair play, a Melting Pot of many different sorts. We've worked through our issues as Americans for nearly 250 years. We have been the undisputed leader of the free-world, have had the highest standard of living, super power status, unmatched in science, education, innovation, and civil liberties, protector of individual freedoms for all. How marvelous! Not perfect but steadily working to be better.

The Trump cohort believes in none of this. Not one bit! Nor do they pretend to. This is what I can't get over! He "who holds the best cards wins" pretty much states their approach to governing. It's greed and self-serving like we've never seen before, it's grab all you can for yourself. At issue is that morality is fundamental to democracy - decency, the Golden Rule, and compromise are required.

"Who holds the best cards" is an unworkable corruption of the ethical use of power, antithetical to any democratic process. So shocking to me is that Mr. Trump and his cohort simply don't believe in democratic rule. Mr. Trump has grifted (cheated) his way through life, a democratic thought having never entered his mind. This could not be more tragic for us as Americans as governing through personal self-interest is destroying our democracy (our freedoms) at its very core.

Gerrymandering shouldn't be allowed

Dear Editor:

REDISTRICTING is the process of redrawing the geographic boundaries of electoral districts for Congress, state legislatures, and local governments, usually occurring every 10 years following the US Census. It ensures districts have roughly equal populations, complying with the "one-person, one vote" standard to account for population shifts.

Now we have Gerrymandering: When map-drawers manipulate boundaries to FAVOR one party or group, often using tactics like "packing" (concentrating opposition voters) or "cracking" (splitting them apart).

Maps must comply with the US Constitution and the Voting Rights Act of 1965, which prohibits racial discrimination in voting.

As of MAY 2026, following Supreme Court rulings, the districts are now being GERRYMANDERED.

The Supreme Court significantly altered the redistricting landscape by rolling back protections under Section 2 of the Voting Rights Act. This major ruling sparked a mid-decade "gerrymandering frenzy" and an arms race of redrawn maps heavily favoring partisan interests ahead of the 2026 midterm elections.

THE GUTTING OF THE VOTING RIGHTS ACT: In a landmark 6-3 decision issued on April 29, 2026, the Supreme Court ruled that drawing maps specifically to maximize majority-minority districts constitutes an unconstitutional racial gerrymander under the Equal Protection Clause.

BUT they added that partisan gerrymandering is a "political question" beyond the reach of federal courts. Republican-led Southern states quickly moved to maximize their congressional seat counts.

SUPREME COURT FACES NEW CRITICISM FOR REDISTRICTING DECISION SO CLOSE TO 2026 ELECTIONS. Justices have said judges shouldn't interfere in election disputes so close to the primary process, but their own rulings have triggered a frenzy to draw new congressional maps.

It is my belief and opinion that EVERYONE should vote in the 2026 midterms, no matter what you think. WE NEED TO PROVE THAT EVERY VOTE COUNTS.

COMMUNITY SPOTLIGHT

The History and Traditions of Memorial Day

Observed each year on the final Monday in May, Memorial Day serves as a time for Americans to honor the men and women who died while serving in the United States military. While many associate the holiday with parades, family gatherings, and the unofficial start of summer, its origins are rooted in remembrance and national reflection following the Civil War.

The earliest forms of Memorial Day emerged in the years after the Civil War, a conflict that claimed more American lives than any other war in the nation's history. Communities across the country began holding tributes for fallen soldiers by decorating their graves with flowers and flags. These observances became commonly known as "Decoration Day."

One of the earliest large-scale commemorations took place in 1868 when General John A. Logan, leader of a Union veterans organization, called for a nationwide day of remembrance on May 30. The date was chosen because flowers would be in bloom across much of the country, allowing graves to be decorated in honor of the fallen.

Over time, the observance expanded beyond Civil War soldiers to recognize Americans who died in all military conflicts. Following World War I, Memorial Day evolved into a broader national tribute to military service members who gave their lives in defense of the country. In 1971, the federal government officially designated Memorial Day as a national holiday and moved its observance to the final Monday in May.

Many Memorial Day traditions remain centered on remembrance and respect. Flags are placed at cemeteries and memorials, while communities often hold ceremonies, parades, and moments of silence. The playing of "Taps," the solemn bugle call long associated with military funerals, continues to be one of the holiday's most recognizable traditions.

Families also gather during the holiday weekend for cookouts, reunions, and community events. Though these celebrations have become part of the modern observance, veterans groups and civic leaders frequently remind Americans of the deeper meaning behind the holiday and the sacrifices it commemorates.

Today, Memorial Day remains both a solemn day of remembrance and a reflection of national gratitude. Across generations, the holiday continues to honor those who made the ultimate sacrifice while serving their country, ensuring their service and legacy are not forgotten.

Faces in the Crowd

This year, Memorial Day will be on Monday, May 25th. It is a national holiday that, for many of us extends over a long three-day week end. This week's question: What does Memorial Day mean to you?

-Man near the Fennville hardware store: "It's the day we honor all the soldiers who got killed in war defending our country."

-Woman with him: "Not just the army soldiers but the sailors and the men and women in the Air Force, too. And the Marines and the Merchant Marines, as well."

-Couple near the Blue Goose; Woman: "It's a time for us to remember what's important around here. You know, patriotism and loyalty, and not a lot of this woke stuff." Man: "Thank God we've got a real patriot in the White House! Trump may not be perfect, but he's a lot better than what we've had in the past."

-Man near the Old Jail Museum: "Oh, for me it means going to the parade to watch my grandson in the band. He plays saxophone. I'm real proud of him."

-Friend with him: "That the kid that is the only one in step when they march?" Laughs. His friend did not.

-Young man near the Allegan Post Office: "I guess some people would say it's not very patriotic, but this is the week end my pop and I go up north to open the cabin. We've done it for years, and now that mom died, it's just the two of us. It's important to keep doing it."

-Couple, same location; Woman, "We got the plants for the urns at the cemetery. I mean, for the family urns, not everyone. When the kids were young, they went with us, but they're grown now. Man: "Yeah, they got underfoot and sometimes were messing around, but we always brought them along." Woman: "One year our daughter pulled up some flowers from another urn so she could help us plant." Man: "That was what you call a learning experience. We had to replant them back where they belonged."

-Young woman near Sassy Olive, "Oh, my husband's folks come over in the afternoon and we have a cook out. Nothing special, burgers and brats on the grill. It's sort of a habit with us."

-Man near the optometry office: Laughs. "Well, I'm going fishing if the weather's decent. And don't think I'm going to tell you my favorite spot caught you might tell someone. It's secret."

-Older woman near the Huntington Bank: "Well, if I can make it, I'll go to the parade and the ceremony. Then in the afternoon I go through some of the photo albums and remember all my relations that are gone. I know it's a day to honor the war dead, but it's my day to remember my family."

-Man near the Allegan Public Library: "First thing in the morning, I put up the flag and thank God I get to live in this wonderful country. We got our problems, but it's better here than anywhere else. Maybe if people didn't pay so much attention to the news they'd be happier."

13th Annual Living History Cemetery Tour brings the past to life

By Gari Voss

Did you ever wonder what it would be like if you could go back in time and ask questions of people who contributed to your past? The Friends of Oakwood Cemetery, 314 Western Ave., in Allegan, MI make this possible through their Annual Living History Tour. This is the 13th year that Amanda Strickfaden and her team of researchers and writers will take visitors on a trip back in time to learn the lore and legend of Allegan's residents.

"We actually have a theme this year, immigrants!" shared coordinator Amanda Strickfaden. "Some from the mid-1800s and one from post WWII."

To be truthful, Ms. Strickfaden is extremely closed lipped when it comes to reveling the characters who will be brought back to life. From one source, I did learn that Spike Kunetz will return. But in the form of whom? Curious people who wish to know, will just have to purchase a ticket for one of the tours.

"During the Living History Cemetery Tour in Allegan, guests move through the peaceful, park-like setting of Oakwood Cemetery while costumed presenters bring Allegan's history to life through first-person performances," reminded Drew Emborsky of the Bear and Fox Yarn Den. "Rather than simply reading names on headstones, visitors experience the stories, personalities, and legacies of those who helped build the town—turning local history into something vivid, personal, and surprisingly moving."

Tickets can be purchased at https://www.zeffy.com/en-US/ticketing/13th-annual-living-history-cemetery-tour or google 13th Annual Living History Tour tickets. Tours depart from the chapel every 15 minutes between 5pm and 8pm and last for about an hour whether rain or shine. It is recommended to bring comfortable walking shoes and an umbrella if the sky looks menacing.

As for the previous twelve years of the History Tours, this event is extremely important to those who love Oakwood Cemetery. The proceeds go toward purchasing supplies to clean and repair headstones of cemetery residents who no longer have family to maintain the plots.

"At The Bear & Fox Yarn Den™," reflected Emborsky, "we love seeing events like this because they remind us that communities are built through stories—both the ones we inherit and the ones we continue to make together."

For those who attended the Living History Tour a couple years ago, they could have enjoyed the reenactment performed by Assistant City Manager Parker Johnson. The 13th Annual Living History Tour on Friday, May 29 and Saturday, May 30, 2026, is not one to miss as immigrants from Allegan's past tell their stories. Tickets can be purchased from https://www.zeffy.com/en-US/ticketing/13th-annual-living-history-cemetery-tour. Photo courtsey of Friends of Oakwood Cemetery

Community Impact Day brings people and businesses together to help

The last time Mike O'Neill was at the Felt Mansion, he was dressed for a friend's wedding. On Wednesday, May 13, 2026, he was dressed for the strong winds, 40-degree temperatures and holding a fistful of garlic mustard as part of Community Impact Day.

About 65 people from area businesses fanned out over the Felt Estate, 6597 138th Ave., and Gibson Cemetery, 6487 138th Ave., in the annual event sponsored by the Michigan West Coast Chamber of Commerce.

"It's such a beautiful place that I wanted to come back and help with the cleanup," said O'Neill of MillerKnoll, one of the several area businesses that supported Community Impact Day.

At the Felt Mansion, volunteers cleared out invasive species, planted flowers in the pollinator garden, painted railings and the side of the historic Chapel at Shore Acres.

"At its core, Community Impact Day is about connection. It brings together businesses, students, families, nonprofits, municipalities, and volunteers of all ages to work side by side," said Jodi Owczarski, president and CEO of the chamber. "It reminds us that creating positive change is truly a team sport. One of my favorite phrases connected to this event is that we are 'turning ripples of influence into tidal waves of positive impact.' That's exactly what this has become. Small acts of service multiplied across thousands of people can create transformational impact in communities everywhere."

About 2,000 volunteers participated around West Michigan through the West Coast Chamber on Wednesday, she said.

Kyle Chrisman of Great Lakes Furniture Supply wielded a paint brush on a railing on the stairs from the mansion to the Carriage House.

"It's good for the community," he said.

Beth DeJongh of MillerKnoll worked hard in a large patch of garlic mustard on Wednesday, pulling the invasive plant and putting them in a trash bag for disposal.

"It's great to see all the people come together and work toward a good cause," she said.

Less than a mile down the road, Kristen Sallmon, Michael Cuellar and Cooper Jennings from Edward Jones picked of debris and placed flags on the graves of service members at Gibson Cemetery.

Laketown Township employees Michelle Sall, Zoey Hallam and Sophia Poel spread mulch and added flowers to the gazebo at the cemetery.

Jeff Partyka, facilities operations for the township, delivered the mulch as well as the tools to the Felt Estate

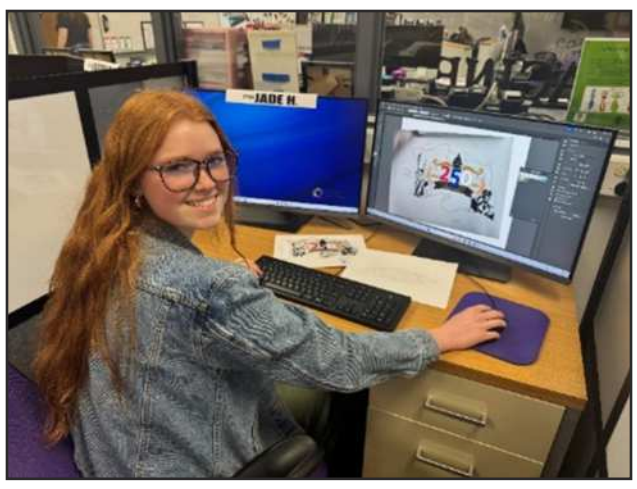
Collaboration creates mixed-media installation art for Allegan Courthouse's 250th Celebration

By Gari Voss

Jade Lynn Hooper, a senior at Martin High School and the Allegan Tech Center, took a shadow of an idea from the Allegan County Court staff, and with the assistance of the Tech Center staff and fellow students created a mixed-media art installation that will be unveiled during a ceremony at the Allegan Courthouse on June 26, 2026.

"This was definitely a collaborative effort," stressed Valli Virgo-Caperton, the Tech Center Graphic Art & Design Instructor. "Three students responded to the request to create something that would represent the Declaration of Independence. After a review of the sketches, we chose the one present by Jade Lynn. From there, the project has been a team effort in deciding materials, cutting the pieces, and fitting the design."

The seed for the project was planted by Michigan's Chief Justice Megan Cavanagh when the courts were preparing for Law Day. "On July 4, our nation will mark the 250th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence," stated Judge Cavanagh. "A milestone that calls for reflection on where we have been, how our country has been shaped, and what comes next. Michigan courts have an important role to play in this historic moment."



Jade Lynn Hooper, a senior at Martin High School, was one of three students who accepted the challenge to create a design that would depict the Declaration of Independence from the Allegan County courts. The project will have a major unveiling at the court's celebration of the United States' 250th Anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. On the desk lay Hooper's initial sketch and a color rendition that could be replicated on the computer. Photo: Valli Virgo-Caperton

The mockup of Hooper's display depicting the meaning of the Declaration of Independence holds shapes cut from balsam wood. The shapes, once properly fit onto the background, will be cut from acrylic and wood, arranged, then affixed to the stainless steel background. The multi-medium design will be unveiled in its entirety on Friday, June 26, 2026, at noon.

The germination began during a Judicial Council meeting at the Allegan County Courthouse when Judge Matthew Antkoviak raised the question as to how the courts could participate in the 250th celebration. Ideas began to flow after reviewing information provided by the National Center for State Courts.

"In looking at ideas, we reviewed information provided by the National Center for State Courts," explained Jennifer Brink, Circuit Court Administrator. "From there, the Judges and Administrators discussed options at a Judicial Council meeting, and I believe it was Judge Clearwater who suggested reaching out to the kids to see if they were interested in getting involved. Judge [Jolene] Clearwater and I met with the teachers and gave them free reign to propose something, and they did not disappoint!"

When Virgo-Caperton presented the idea to the Tech Center graphic arts students, three of the advanced students began to create. That brought the sketches that were reviewed by Virgo-Caperton, Dr. Dale Quattrin in the Engineer, Electronics, & Robotics Department, and Jerry Funk in the Welding Department. Their decision was to move forward with the design submitter by Hooper.

Though the pieces of the design seemed spot on to represent the Declaration of Independence and the role of the courts, deciding on what material to use to produce the 3-dimensional effect. Mr. Funk contributed the metal background on which the pieces could be mounted. Dr. Quattrin assisted with plastics and wood that would form the silhouette.

"We just received a laser cutter for plastic," interjected Dr. Q. "We are still learning all of its workings and applications, but we felt this would be the answer to getting the fine cuts and shapes."

Thus, the plant took strong roots with the Tech Center team on board, and once Hooper refined her design, other students were able to assist in manufacturing the pieces of an intricate puzzle which helped the stem strengthened and sprout leaves.

Virgo-Caperton and Dr. Q stressed that projects such as this real-world piece could not be accomplished without collaboration. No one person has the knowledge of the techniques, materials and machines that are combined to create the mixed-media installation art. Everyone looked and shared and helped make decisions.

To participate in the Celebration of the 250th and the unveiling of this multi-media project, everyone can attend the ceremony on Friday, June 26, 2026, at the courthouse. Thanks to a collaborative effort, the flower will have bloomed with its stainless steel, acrylic, and board and be hung for everyone to see.

At that time, it is certainly true of Judge Cavanaugh's statement, "Thank you for your continued service and commitment to making our court system as accessible and effective as possible for the people we serve."

Allegan wins all eight flights to claim regional title

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

The Allegan girls tennis team added another regional championship to its impressive program history Thursday.

But this one came with a historic twist.

For the first time in program history, the Tigers captured all eight flight championships at a Division 4 regional, finishing with 32 points to claim the regional title and set a new school record in the process.

According to Allegan coach Damien Arthur, the accomplishment is especially significant given the tradition of the program.

"For a girls tennis program that has finished State Runner-Up four times, won 20-plus regional titles, and captured 35-plus conference championships, this is an incredibly special accomplishment," Arthur said. "Yesterday, this team raised the bar."

Arthur noted that the Tigers' previous program record of seven flight championships at a regional had been achieved in 2013, 2014 and 2017.

Leading the way for the Tigers were regional champions Addy Fales at No. 1 singles, Camdyn Drozd at No. 2 singles, Kendall Halstead at No. 3 singles and Ava Thompson at No. 4 singles.

Allegan also swept the doubles flights, with Madison Cook and Ireland Dewey winning at No. 1 doubles, Hanna Kievit and Taylor Fuller taking first at No. 2 doubles, Sophia Augustine and Emma Scheffler claiming the No. 3 doubles title, and Kaylee Haas and Hailey Gauthier finishing first at No. 4 doubles.

Fales defeated Buchanan's River Thompson 6-0, 6-2 in the finals at No. 1 singles, while Drozd earned a 6-1, 6-0 victory over Buchanan's Brooke Berninger in the No. 2 singles championship match.

Halstead posted a 6-1, 6-0 win over Buchanan's Maddie Meyer at No. 3 singles, and Thompson battled past Calvin Christian's Claire Koster 6-4, 4-6, 5-0 (retired) in the finals at No. 4 singles.

At doubles, Cook and Dewey defeated Calvin Christian's No. 1 doubles team 6-1, 6-2 in the finals, while Kievit and Fuller earned a 6-1, 6-1 victory over Buchanan at No. 2 doubles.

Augustine and Scheffler captured the No. 3 doubles title with a 6-0, 6-1 win over Berrien Springs, while Haas and Gauthier outlasted Buchanan 6-3, 6-7(7), 6-3 in the No. 4 doubles finals.

Arthur said the record-setting performance reflects the work and growth the team has shown throughout the season.

"I am honestly at a loss for words when it comes to what this group has accomplished this season," Arthur said. "It has been an absolute joy to watch them compete, grow, support each other, and succeed together."

Arthur also praised the bond shared by the players and the opportunity coaches have to witness moments like Thursday's championship run.

"As coaches, this is why we do what we do," Arthur said. "We invest in young people, push them, challenge them, believe in them, and then we get to watch them celebrate their accomplishments with smiles and cheers. Moments like yesterday are a powerful reminder of why coaching is so special."

The regional title also secured Allegan a spot in the Division 4 State Finals.

"I could not be more proud of these girls," Arthur said. "They have earned everything they have achieved this season."

Arthur added that the Tigers are excited for the opportunity to continue their season together at state.

"We are also excited that our seniors have earned two more weeks together, as the Tigers have officially qualified for the State Finals," he said.

Otsego boys earn regional crown in dramatic fashion

By Jason Wesseldyk

STURGIS—Going into the final event of the night, the Otsego found itself looking up at Three Rivers in the team standings at the Division 2 boys regional track meet at Sturgis on Friday, May 15.

A few minutes later, the Bulldogs were regional champions.

Otsego closed the meet with a victory in the 4x400 relay to surge past Three Rivers and capture the regional title with 84.83 points. Three Rivers was second with 79, while Edwardsburg placed third at 75.5.

Otsego entered the 4x400 relay trailing Three Rivers, but the quartet of Ezekiel Andrina, Kaleb Koestner, Ty Oaks and Jack Cook crossed the line first in 3:26.90 to seal the regional championship.

Even more impressive was the fact that the Bulldogs posted the top overall time despite competing in the first heat of the event.

Plainwell tied for 10th with 25 points, while Allegan finished 14th with six.

Cook helped pace Otsego's championship effort by winning the 200 dash in a personal-best time of 21.54, while Oaks captured the regional title in the 400 dash in 49.89.

Alex Robbins added another regional championship for the Bulldogs by winning the discus with a throw of 162-4. Robbins also qualified for the Division 2 State Finals in the shot put with a third-place throw of 53-8.

Otsego qualified in several other events as well.

Kenny Sheffer earned a state finals berth in the 3,200 run by finishing runner-up in 9:54.42, while Carson Brooks qualified in the pole vault after clearing a personal-best 13-2 to place third.

Ethan Simpson also punched his ticket to the state finals with a personal-best leap of 21-4 in the long jump, good for third place.

The Bulldogs' 4x100 relay team of Andrina, Roman Mitchell, Sam Cook and Jack Cook qualified with a time of 44.20, while the 4x200 relay team of Andrina, Mitchell, Sam Cook and Jack Cook placed second in 1:30.20 to advance.

Otsego also received strong performances from Ryan Long, George Whitaker, Gunnar Djerf and Kingston Lennan, who teamed up to place third in the 4x800 relay in 8:30.90.

Plainwell was led by Sawyer Lilly, who qualified for the state finals in both throwing events.

Lilly placed fourth in the shot put with a toss of 50-2 and added a fifth-place finish in the discus at 138-0.

The Trojans also saw Loehn Luckett qualify in the pole vault after clearing a personal-best 12-8 to place fifth.

Allegan's top performance came from Kellen Chalupa, who qualified for the state finals in the 800 run with a personal-best time of 1:59.91 to place third.

Wayland boys take first place

ALLENDALE—Depth mattered for the Wayland boys track and field team all season long.

That depth paid off in a big way at the Division 2 regional meet hosted by Allendale on Saturday, May 16.

Behind strong performances across the board, the Wildcats captured the regional championship with 94 points. Coopersville was second with 91, followed by Hopkins in third with 58 and Hamilton in fifth with 52.

Wayland qualified athletes for the Division 2 state finals in eight events, including all three sprint relays.

Brock Wheeler led the way for Wayland by winning the 400-meter dash in a state-qualifying time of 50.66 seconds. Wheeler also helped the Wildcats win the 4x200 relay in 1:29.49 and place second in the 4x400 relay in 3:27.82. Both relays qualified for the state finals as well.

Joining Wheeler on the winning 4x200 relay were Henry Maass, Luke VandeZande and Jake Reeder, while Reeder, Alex Hubbard and Chance Lenhart teamed with Wheeler on the 4x400 relay.

Wayland also qualified in the 4x100 relay, as Drew Hudson, Reeder, VandeZande and Maass combined for a time of 43.50.

Reeder added an individual state-qualifying performance by placing second in the 200 in 22.20, while Hubbard qualified in both hurdle events after finishing fourth in the 110 hurdles (15.47) and second in the 300 hurdles (41.04).

Justin Springs won a regional title in the long jump with a leap of 22-1.

Hopkins also had several state qualifiers.

Clayton Kerber had a huge day for the Vikings, winning the 300 hurdles in a personal-record time of 40.07 seconds and qualifying in the 110 hurdles by placing third in 15.24.

Kellen Ford qualified in the 100 after taking second in 11.07, while Kash Moored qualified in the 800 with a personal-record time of 2:00.05.

The Hopkins 4x800 relay team of Jack Estelle, Moored, Noah Gibson and Grady Johnston also punched its ticket to the state finals by placing third in 8:07.13. Estelle finished fifth in the 1,600 at 4:26.02 to meet the qualifying standard.

Parker Warners qualified in the long jump after placing fourth with a personal-record leap of 21-2, while Luke Klinge and Graycin Ingle each qualified in the pole vault after both cleared 12-8.

Hamilton was paced by a strong showing in the hurdles and relays.

Hudsen Hulst won the 110 hurdles in a personal-record time of 14.50, while Garner Hulst finished second in 15.15 as both qualified for the state finals.

Hamilton's 4x100 relay team of Kuno Chico, Hudsen Hulst, Carter Hickok and Noel Vigil qualified for the state finals by placing seventh in 44.00, while the 4x200 relay team of Hickok, Garner Hulst, Hudsen Hulst and Vigil placed second in a state-qualifying time of 1:30.87.

Carter Ruzicka qualified in the shot put after placing second with a throw of 46-6.

Freshman Robison helps lift Saugatuck boys to third

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

MONTAGUE—For the record, Saugatuck's Charles Robison is only a freshman.

But at the Division 3 boys track and field regional hosted by Montague on Friday, May 15, he performed like a seasoned veteran.

In addition to winning the 300-meter hurdles in a personal-record time of 41.41 seconds, Robison finished runner-up in both the 100 dash (11.38) and 200 dash (23.48).

All three finishes earned Robison spots in the Division 3 State Finals.

Thanks largely to that effort by Robison, Saugatuck placed third in the 17-team field with 80 points. Belding won the regional title with 102 points, followed by Wyoming Potter's House Christian with 82.5 points.

Fennville finished 15th with 13 points.

Robison was not the only Saugatuck athlete to earn state-finals berths.

In the 3,200 run, Jackson Bowman placed third in 9:56.15 while Sawyer Monroe finished fourth in 10:02.90, with both runners meeting the state qualifying standard.

The Trailblazers also advanced a pair of relay teams to the state finals.

The 4x400 relay team of Chase Skinner, Robison, Alek Diaz and Grant Rehkopf placed third in 3:33.53, while the 4x800 relay team of Ira Brown, Bowman, Monroe and Rehkopf finished fourth in 8:28.14.

Other top performances for Saugatuck included Pete Mitchell placing fourth in the long jump at 20-2.25, Skinner finishing fifth in the 300 hurdles (44.28) and ninth in the high jump (5-5), Diaz taking fifth in the 400 dash (53.13), and Gabriel Lauer placing fourth in the 200 dash (24.02).

Fennville was led by fantastic freshman of its own.

Julian Weimer captured the regional title in the long jump with a leap of 20-5.5 to earn a trip to the state finals.

Ivan "Gabe" Gonzalez also turned in a strong day for the Blackhawks, placing 11th in both the 800 run (2:06.32) and 1,600 run (4:38.82), recording a personal-best time in the 1,600.

Other notable performances for Fennville included Atticus Boeve placing 11th in the 800 run (2:08.64), Israel Arredondo taking 11th in the shot put (38-8) and 13th in the discus with a personal-best throw of 112-2, and Christopher Davie finishing ninth in the long jump at 18-1.75.

Mathis, Homrich qualify in multiple events

Hopkins' Riley Homrich qualified for the finals in three events.

ALLENDALE—In a regional meet loaded with strong individual performances, Wayland's Evie Mathis and Hopkins' Riley Homrich made sure to leave their mark on Saturday, May 16.

Mathis qualified for the Division 2 state finals in three events—including a regional title in the pole vault—while Homrich qualified in three events of her own at the Division 2 regional hosted by Allendale.

As a team, Hopkins placed fourth with 56 points, narrowly edging fifth-place Wayland Union, which finished with 52.5. Hamilton was ninth with 23 points.

Mathis put together one of the top all-around performances of the day.

The senior cleared a personal-record 13 feet to win the pole vault regional championship and qualify for the state finals. She also helped Wayland's 4x200 relay team of Megan Brogger, Quinn Reeder and Laney Wolf capture a regional title in 1:47.26.

Mathis added a third state-qualifying performance as part of the Wildcats' 4x100 relay team. She joined Reeder, Wolf and Brogger on the team that placed third in 51.58.

Homrich, meanwhile, continued her outstanding season for Hopkins.

The senior sprint standout won the 100-meter dash in a personal-record time of 12.44 seconds and added a runner-up finish in the 200 in 26.49.

She also qualified in the long jump after placing fourth with a leap of 16-6.

Wayland had several other strong performances in addition to Mathis' big day.

Wolf finished fourth in both the 100 and 200, while Brogger placed third in the 200 with a season-best time of 27.13.

Hopkins also got a state-qualifying performance from Keilah Bonga, who placed second in the discus with a personal-record throw of 129-9.

Andrea Brower added a fourth-place finish and state-qualifying time of 49.08 in the 300 hurdles.

Hamilton was led by Jenna Dozeman, who qualified for the state finals in two events.

Dozeman placed third in the 400 in a personal-record 1:00.21 and also qualified in the long jump by finishing third with a leap of 16-6.25.

Saugatuck soccer beats Allegan in home finale

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

SAUGATUCK—The Saugatuck girls soccer team closed out its regular-season home schedule in style Thursday, May 14.

The Trailblazers turned in a strong all-around effort in a 2-0 win over Allegan, using a pair of first-half goals and a sharp defensive performance after halftime to seal the victory.

Senior midfielder Neave Rewa got Saugatuck on the board after teaming with fellow senior Jordan Sanders on a crisp passing sequence that ended with Rewa finding the back of the net. Sanders earned the assist on the play.

The Trailblazers struck again in dramatic fashion just before halftime.

With only seconds remaining before the break, Rewa sent a high-arching ball toward the front of the goal, where senior Avery Smith tracked it down and headed it in to double Saugatuck's lead heading into halftime.

The Blazers' defense took care of the rest from there.

Senior outside defender Kielee Sisson and freshman Claire Robb helped anchor a strong second half defensively as Saugatuck kept Allegan from mounting a comeback attempt.

Saugatuck coach Neal Phillips said it was the kind of complete team effort the Blazers were hoping to see heading toward postseason play.

"The Allegan Tigers came to town hungry, but we were ready for the challenge," Phillips said.

Martinson, DeGraaf lead Saugatuck girls track at regionals

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

MONTAGUE—When it came time for the Saugatuck girls track and field team to deliver at Friday's Division 3 regional, Alina Martinson and Novella DeGraaf provided quite the one-two punch.

Martinson captured a pair of regional titles, while DeGraaf qualified for the Division 3 State Finals in three events to lead the Trailblazers to a third-place finish at the 16-team regional hosted by Montague on Friday, May 15.

Saugatuck totaled 87.5 points. Newaygo claimed the regional title with 113 points, followed by Grandville Calvin Christian with 91.

Fennville finished 10th with 24 points.

Martinson paced the Trailblazers by winning both the 400 dash and 800 run. She crossed the line in 1:01.07 to win the 400 before taking top honors in the 800 with a time of 2:26.22.

DeGraaf, meanwhile, turned in a big day of her own.

She won the pole vault by clearing 10-3, finished runner-up in the 100 hurdles in 15.74 and added another second-place finish in the long jump with a personal-best leap of 16-11.75.

All three performances earned DeGraaf spots at the state finals.

Saugatuck also qualified its 4x800 relay team for the state finals as Kamryn Sixberry, Ellyse Heyser, Lyvia Curtis and Savannah VanDenBerg placed third in 10:09.83.

Other strong performances for the Trailblazers included Heyser placing third in the 3,200 run with a personal-best time of 12:06.26, Sixberry taking fourth in the 800 run in 2:32.06 and fifth in the 1,600 run in 5:39.37, and Heyser finishing fourth in the 1,600 in 5:38.90.

Curtis added a sixth-place finish in the 3,200 run in 12:27.95, while Bella Ketterer placed sixth in the 300 hurdles in 53.72.

Fennville was led by Isabelle Sliter, who qualified for the state finals in a pair of distance events.

Sliter finished runner-up in the 3,200 run with a season-best time of 12:00.10 and also placed third in the 1,600 run in 5:27.67 to earn state finals berths in both events.

Other notable performances for the Blackhawks included Macy Samp placing fourth in the 200 dash in 27.84 and fifth in the pole vault at 8-3, while Melody Ponce recorded a personal-best throw of 47-10 in the discus.

Clippers secure share of divisional championship

DELTON—The doubleheader sweep over Delton on Tuesday, May 12, meant a little more for the Martin baseball team.

With the wins, the Clippers clinched a share of the conference championship with Galesburg-Augusta, securing the program's first league title since 2007.

For Martin coach Brad Blauvelt, it was a moment worth appreciating considering where the program was just a few years ago.

"Four years ago, we took over a program that hadn't won a game since 2017," Blauvelt said. "This senior group has been here since the very beginning of that rebuild."

Blauvelt said seniors such as Haylen Buell have helped change the direction and culture of the program.

"Haylen Buell hit .571 as a freshman, and not much has changed since then," Blauvelt said. "This group of seniors has had a huge impact on the culture of the program and helped lay the foundation for where we are today."

Martin opened the day with a 7-6 win before completing the sweep with an 18-4 victory.

In the opener, Jace Brinkhuis went 3-for-4 with a double and helped spark Martin offensively.

Peyton Schuring-Harris drove in a run in the first inning before Zaiden Buell delivered a two-run single in the second to put the Clippers back in front for good.

Martin added three more runs in the third inning, highlighted by RBI singles from Brinkhuis and Anderson Keeler. Keeler later stole home as part of an aggressive Martin attack that produced 10 stolen bases.

Jackson Kennedy earned the win after striking out 10 over 4 2/3 innings, while Haylen Buell picked up the save.

Schuring-Harris finished with two hits, while Keeler, Buell and Brinkhuis each stole multiple bases.

The Clippers followed that up with an offensive outburst in the nightcap.

Haylen Buell drove in four runs and collected four hits, including a solo home run, to lead Martin to the 18-4 win.

Martin scored four runs in the first inning as Schuring-Harris doubled home two runs and Blake Sweeting followed with a two-run single.

The Clippers added five more runs in the second inning and never looked back.

Haylen Buell added an RBI triple and sacrifice fly to go with his home run, while Schuring-Harris also collected four hits in the game.

Keeler doubled and drove in two runs, Hopkins tripled and drove in a run, and Zaiden Buell added multiple hits as Martin piled up 17 hits overall.

Bryer Watson tossed 2 2/3 scoreless innings in relief, allowing no hits while striking out five.

Allegan's VandenAkker, Otsego's Verhage shine at regionals

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

STURGIS—Allegan senior Jayden VandenAkker and Otsego freshman Alayna VerHage may be at opposite ends of their high school careers. But the two local standouts produced similarly impressive performances at the Division 2 regional track and field meet in Sturgis on Friday, May 15.

VerHage and VandenAkker each won one event and finished runner-up in another while helping pace strong overall showings for their respective teams.

VerHage captured the regional title in the 3,200 run with a time of 11:24.53 and added a runner-up finish in the 1,600 run in 5:16.14. Both performances earned her spots at the Division 2 State Finals.

VandenAkker, meanwhile, won the 100 hurdles in a season-best time of 14.65 and finished second in the 300 hurdles in 47.26, also qualifying for the state finals in both events.

VerHage's effort helped lead Otsego to a third-place finish in the team standings with 74 points. Stevensville Lakeshore won the regional title with 89.33 points, while Sturgis was second at 75.5.

Allegan finished 10th with 33 points, while Plainwell placed 12th at 25.33.

Otsego had several other state qualifiers as well.

Skylar Mejeur qualified in the 800 run after placing third in 2:22.20, while Addelyn Sabatke earned a state berth in the 3,200 with a fifth-place finish in 11:42.67.

Olivia Klimp also advanced in both hurdle events, placing third in the 100 hurdles in a personal-record 15.54 and third in the 300 hurdles in a personal-best 47.73.

The Bulldogs' 4x400 relay team of Kyla Haak, Adelyn VerHage, Mejeur and Klimp qualified for the finals with a third-place finish in 4:12.77.

Otsego also got a third-place finish from Audrey Holmes in the shot put at 35-4, while Madden Fitzpatrick placed second in the discus with a personal-record throw of 120-4 to qualify for the state finals.

For Allegan, Bailee Dilley qualified for states by winning the pole vault with a personal-best clearance of 12-6. She also added a fourth-place finish in the 400 dash in 1:01.25.

Plainwell was led by Mai Nguyen, who qualified for the state finals in both distance events. She placed fourth in the 1,600 run in 5:20.51 and was runner-up in the 3,200 in 11:31.32.

The Trojans' 4x100 relay team of Hailey Newcomb, Evangeline Coutu, Nyra Cross and Delainey Poel placed third in a qualifying time of 51.00.

PAW PAW—A strong season for the Otsego girls tennis team came to an end Thursday, May 14, as the Bulldogs narrowly missed qualifying for the Division 3 State Finals as a team.

Otsego finished third at the Division 3 regional hosted by Paw Paw and Kalamazoo College with 16 points, just two shy of the 18-point mark needed to earn an at-large state finals berth. Grand Rapids South Christian won the regional title with 26 points, while Hamilton finished second with 21 points to claim the region's automatic qualifying spot.

Despite falling just short as a team, the Bulldogs will still be represented at the Division 3 State Finals in Midland thanks to senior Hailey Burd, who qualified individually with a runner-up finish at No. 1 singles.

"Hailey came into the tournament just short of a seeded spot and was ready to prove her skills to the region," Otsego coach Melissa Garrett said.

After opening with a win over West Michigan Lutheran, Burd defeated the No. 3 seed from St. Joseph in the quarterfinals before facing conference rival Cheyenne Small of Niles in the semifinals.

After losing to Small at the Wolverine Conference tournament less than a week earlier, Burd responded with a 6-1, 7-5 victory to earn a spot in the regional finals.

"Hailey played hands down, the best tennis of her career on Thursday," Garrett said.

Burd eventually fell to top-seeded Alyssa Crain of Paw Paw 6-0, 6-1 in the championship match, but her runner-up finish secured a berth in the state finals.

"I'm incredibly proud of Hailey for her finish on Thursday and for advancing to the State finals," Garrett said.

Burd was not the only Bulldog to turn in a strong performance on the day. In fact, Otsego picked up opening-round victories at all eight flights.

"The girls came out ready to play and faced each match with grit and determination," Garrett said. "The early wins at 4 doubles by Brooklynn Cockerel and Emma Gilson and 3 doubles by Rachel Breese and Laney Sweet were huge. We picked up some key second-round wins at every singles flight and at 1 and 2 doubles."

At No. 1 doubles, Stella Houseman and Sara McCaw reached the semifinals before falling to Hamilton 6-4, 6-0.

The No. 2 doubles team of Mila Garrett and Hope Stender also advanced to the semifinals, where they pushed Grand Rapids South Christian to three sets before dropping a 6-4, 4-6, 6-1 decision.

On the singles side, sophomore Alie Bronson advanced to the semifinals at No. 4 singles with a 7-2, 6-1 victory over Hastings in the quarterfinals before falling to Grand Rapids South Christian 6-1, 6-2.

At No. 3 singles, junior Lydia Griffith defeated Plainwell's Anna Hall 6-3, 6-2 in the second round before losing to Hamilton's Kylie Rietema 6-4, 6-2 in the semifinals.

Senior Ellie Korringa put together one of the Bulldogs' top performances of the day at No. 2 singles. After defeating a Plainwell opponent in the second round and advancing past Grand Rapids South Christian in the semifinals, Korringa reached the regional championship match before finishing runner-up to St. Joseph.

Although the Bulldogs narrowly missed extending their season as a full team, Garrett said the season remained a successful and memorable one.

"The girls had a great season," Coach Garrett said. "I will miss this group of seniors and the leadership they gave our team. They really knew how to have fun, but work hard at the same time."

Martin's Conley punches ticket to state finals in four events

GOBLES—Qualifying for the Track and Field State Finals in one event is an accomplishment.

Martin's Veyda Conley qualified in all four of hers.

The Martin junior turned in a standout performance at the Division 4 regional hosted by Gobles on Friday, May 15, qualifying for the state finals in the 800 run, 1,600 run, 3,200 run and as part of the Clippers' 4x800 relay team.

In doing so, Conley became the first Martin athlete in recent memory to qualify for the state finals in all four of her events.

Conley finished runner-up in the 800 run in 2:27.05, placed second in the 1,600 run with a personal-record time of 5:15.42 and added another second-place finish in the 3,200 run in 12:02.34.

She also teamed with Torryn Harris, Allison Rodgers and Sara Schipper to help the Clippers' 4x800 relay squad place third in 10:21.32, a time that also met the state qualifying standard.

Behind performances like those, the Martin girls placed third in the team standings with 67 points. Kalamazoo Hackett won the regional title with 164 points, while Gobles was second at 106.

The Martin boys finished fifth as a team with 47 points. Kalamazoo Hackett also captured the boys regional title with 119.5 points, followed by Eau Claire at 106 and Gobles at 97.5.

The Clippers had several other strong performances on the girls' side.

Aliyah DeGlopper qualified for the state finals in the shot put after placing third with a personal-record throw of 32-9.75.

Schipper added fourth-place finish in the 400 dash in a personal-record 1:03.80 and also placed seventh in the long jump, while Harris was fifth in the 400 in a season-best 1:05.62.

Rodgers contributed points in both distance races, placing seventh in the 3,200 and eighth in the 1,600, while Kyleigh Buell finished fourth in the long jump with a personal-best leap of 14-0.

On the boys side, Seth Smit qualified for the Division 4 State Finals in the long jump after finishing runner-up with a personal-record jump of 20-1.5.

Peyton Schuring-Harris also earned a state finals berth by placing third in the shot put with a season-best throw of 43-11.

Martin also received strong performances from Hunter Hayes, who placed fifth in both the 1,600 and 3,200 runs, and from Lucian King and Blake Sweeting, who tied for third in the high jump after each cleared 5-6.

The Clippers' 4x800 relay team of Jeremiah VanHouten, Gari Salvador-Garcia, Hayes and Jadon Dettmann added a fourth-place finish in 8:47.51.

For The Record

Peek at the Past

Son of ex-resident on staff at Naval research station: The son of a former Allegan girl, Helen Merchant, now Mrs. E. Herman of Detroit, is a physicist at the Navy's most important research station, the Naval Ordinance Test Station at Inyokern, China Lake, California, it was learned this week.

The son, Robert W. Ferman, is on the staff of the Test Department which has the responsibility for guided missile work thru testing, including development, testing, and assessment programs with new rockets.

Technical director of the station is Dr. L. T. Thompson, formerly head of the department of physics at Kalamazoo College 1920-24. The appointment of Herman to the staff of the test station became known in letters to Kalamazoo college officials by Dr. Thompson.

It seems that Dr. Thompson, a 1914 graduate of Kalamazoo college himself, has three Kalamazoo College graduates on his staff. Herman being one of them.

A graduate of Kalamazoo College in the year of 1945, Herman followed the footsteps of his parents, both being graduates of the college.

Players turn 'Frog' into prince of play: The Allegan Community Players scored another hit with the children last Friday and Saturday with their production of "Bracko, the Prince Frog," a comedy in which three of the illustrious characters are transformed into frogs by a bumbling magician.

Much of the modernized fairy tale dialogue appeared lost on the youngest and certain scenes were frightening for some of them, but the bright adults who saw the well-attended play—and most of the children—seemed to enjoy the madcap tale of misadventures that all happened in an echoing grotto.

Director Laura Purkey guided a group of talented actors and actresses thru their paces in roles that allowed most of them to "act their hearts out."

It's tough to project to a full house of youngsters and hold their attention for an hour, but when the action began to drag at times, the troupe recaptured the audience.

Outstanding were Ken Andrews, of course, whose second home is a stage; Jim Cozart, whose character part of the witless wizard, Zauberfinger, was demanding; and Kathy Martin, who stood out in the role of Gretta, one of the handmaidens.

Andrews as King Ludwig delighted the kids with his flourishes and tirades, and Cozart gave his all. He has a bump on the back of his head to prove it.

Black belt teaches self defense: "If you can't stand, you can't fight," said Geoff Spohn.

Spohn, a black belt, has been practicing martial arts for 19 years. After reading an email of what rapists look for in a potential target, Spohn felt compelled to teach a women's self defense class free of charge for six weeks. The class began April 26 and is on Thursday nights at 7:30 p.m. in the basement of the United Methodist Church in Allegan.

Spohn provides instruction on how to immobilize an attacker in three blows or less. In his first class, Spohn shared the information he learned from an email. According to Spohn, rapists "are looking for an easy target." A woman on a cell phone or searching through her purse would be caught off guard.

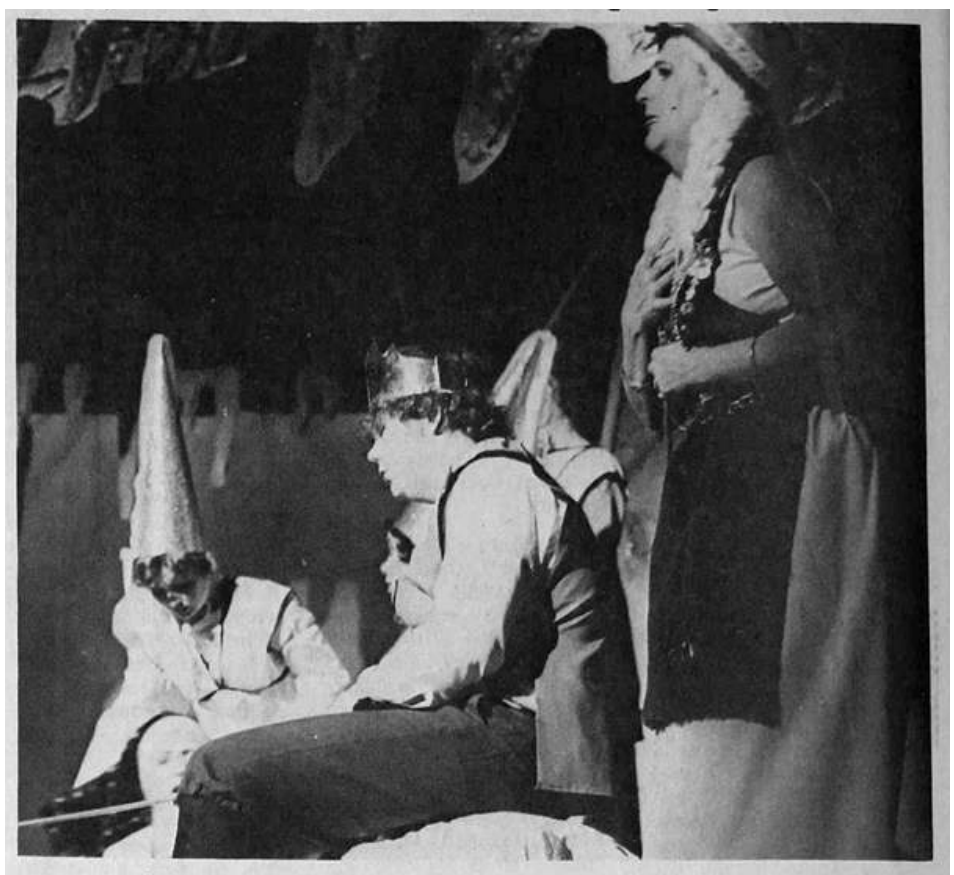
"Always be aware of your surroundings," said Spohn.

With a "hiya" Jackie Webber kicked a target held by Spohn, whose first class ranged from basic stances to the useful moves. (Photo by Janelle Jackson)

He also shared that hairstyles that are easy to grab appeal to attackers. Any clothing that is easy to cut off, like overalls, are a prime focus because the rapist will often carry a pair of scissors.

Spohn said that according to a statistic, the number one place for an attack is in a parking lot or garage and the second likely spot is in a public restroom. Most of these crimes occur from 5 to 8:30 a.m., "just the time people are leaving for work," said Spohn.

Another helpful hint he offered was that if a woman is in a dangerous situation, she should yell "fire" or "call 9-1-1" because it is likely to get more attention he says than "help."



In a golden grotto, Kent Meredith, center, was "Bracko, the Prince Frog," with a head-cold Friday and Saturday in the Allegan Community Players' hit show for "Children and bright adults." Kathy Martin, left, was Gretta, and Leah VanOrder, right, was the Valkyrie.

Allegan Fair back on with full slate: The Allegan County Fair is a GO! With the lifting of regulations on outdoor activities by the State of Michigan, the Allegan County Fair announced that it would be back Sept. 10-18, 2021 with a full slate of shows on the Grandstand plus Midway entertainment.

The cancellation of the 2020 Allegan County Fair due to COVID-19 lockdowns and regulations was only the second time in its 168 year history. The only other time was at the beginning of World War II.

The lack of a showcase for 4-H and Open Class projects disappointed a wide range of talented youth and adult exhibitors in 2020, but they are eager to get back in the game for 2021.

This September, the Fair expects to regain its position as the largest County Fair in the Midwest. The 10 days will include the traditional Rodeo Night, Truck and Tractor Pull, and Demolition Derby Championship. Add to these the Unique Motor Sports Off-Road Demolition Derby and the Fair Parade.

Jeff Dunham will open the Grandstand shows with "Seriously!?" and additional shows will be added now that contracts are being finalized.

Thus far, the lineup of Allegan County Fair Events is:

Sept. 10: Jeff Dunham "Seriously!?"

Sept. 12: Unique Motor Sports Off Road Demo Derby

Sept. 13: Fair Parade

Sept. 14: Flying Star Rodeo

Sept. 15: NTPA Truck and Tractor Pulls

Sept. 18: Unique Motor Sports State Championship Demo Derby

Trek For Vets makes stop in Otsego during 500-mile Michigan journey

By Jason Wesseldyk
Sports Editor

Trek For Vets, a 500-mile, 25-day journey across Michigan, made a stop at the Otsego Fire Department on Saturday, May 16. (Photo provided)

A statewide journey aimed at raising awareness for veteran mental health and isolation made a stop in Otsego over the weekend.

Trek For Vets, a 500-mile, 25-day journey across Michigan, stopped at the Otsego Fire Department on Saturday, May 16, where community members gathered to welcome participants and learn more about the mission behind the event.

According to the Otsego VFW Post 3030 Facebook page, the trek focuses on "raising awareness for veteran isolation, mental health struggles, and the importance of connection and community for those who served our country."

The post also stated that the organization's mission is to help veterans build a "tribe" of support and remind them "they are never alone."

Following the Otsego stop, Otsego VFW Post 3030 thanked Marine veteran Lawrence Miller of Trek For Vets for visiting the community during what it described as an "incredible 500 mile journey across Michigan."

"We appreciate you taking the time to visit with our community, share your mission, and help educate others about the importance of supporting veterans and bringing awareness to veteran mental health and isolation," the post said. "Your dedication to making sure no veteran feels alone is truly inspiring."

The trek began May 1 and will conclude May 25 at the Royal Oak Memorial Day Parade.

According to the Trek For Vets website, the event spans the entire state of Michigan and covers approximately 20 miles per day while traveling "via air, land, and sea" as a tribute to the United States Marine Corps reconnaissance community.

The route includes stops stretching from St. Ignace and Mackinac Island to Traverse City, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Lansing and several other Michigan communities before concluding in Royal Oak.

The Trek For Vets website states that organizers are committed to creating "trusted communication channels within the tactical community" while helping veterans move "from isolation to connection."

"These treks aren't just about the miles traveled," organizers said on the Trek For Vets website. "They're about the conversations had, the laughter shared, and the bonds built in places far from the noise of daily life.

"The Trek is not just about physical fitness—it's mental resilience, emotional support and the power of belonging."

According to the Trek For Vets website, organizers are also working to raise support through the symbolic sale of 500 cases of coffee — one for each mile of the journey.

RELIGION SECTION

Have you ever felt you were a ghost to the rest of the world? So unnoticed, so unseen, that you wonder if you are invisible? That might seem like a fun trick to play on others, but in reality, it is a miserable experience.

I encountered a 'ghost' by accident a week or so ago. I was walking down the sidewalk as a man was coming my direction. I did not know him, but that didn't stop me from saying 'hello' to him. That is something The Olds taught us when we were young: You speak to people, and never think you are too good to say 'hello'.

He looked startled at first, then smiled and thanked me. The fellow went on to explain that he'd just had breakfast at a restaurant, and outside of the waitress, no one acknowledged his presence. And this wasn't the first time it happened. "Thank you. You made my day," he told me as if it was something special.

Maybe it was, because as I wrote, if you have ever experienced that treatment, you know it is rough.

That is why I very much appreciate the first sentence in a closing prayer we often use at church: "Life is short, and we do not have much time to gladden the hearts of those who travel with us."

When we are young, it sometimes seems as if life will extend and continue forever. Then we become a card-carrying member of The Olds, and we see that time is getting away from us. We have observed from others that the latter part of physical life might be very debilitating and limiting. Life is indeed short.

How many times have we put things off until tomorrow? Tomorrow I will call an old friend; tomorrow I'll send a text message or e-mail. Tomorrow we'll call the neighbors and see if we can set up dinner. We keep delaying and procrastinating, because when the clock turns twelve-midnight, suddenly there is another tomorrow. That is, until the day we ran out of those tomorrows. Sometimes, we tell ourselves, "Next year I will…." We all run out of those 'next years.'

The phrase that truly puts a smile on my face is 'gladden the hearts of those who travel with us. It is a boost to our own spirits when we do or say something that puts a smile on another person's face. A fellow I know realized that his wife enjoyed a certain brand of dark Mexican chocolate. It was a bit pricey, but he did not wait until a special occasion to stop by a shop to pick some up for her. Instead of waiting, he went out of his way to create a non-special occasion and casually said, "I thought you might enjoy this."

The chocolate said, "I see you. I see what you do to make life wonderful." It gladdened her heart.

A few years later his wife died, and when we were talking he mentioned the chocolate, and how fortunate he was that he could brighten her day.

Time is short and we are burning daylight. Now is the day to love and care for other people.
